

TRANSITIONAL MEMBERSHIP AVAILABLE FOR FREE

SHRA's mission is to "champion the highest professional standards of HR ethics and performance by providing ongoing professional development, resources, networking and support for its members and the community."

Through 2010, SHRA would like to "Lend a Hand" and continue the transitional membership which was instituted at the beginning of 2009.

SHRA will continue to offer a free transitioning membership for up to one year to help unemployed members stay current on HR issues and provide the resources they need in their job searches.

Transitioning membership is open to active SHRA members who are unemployed on the date their membership expires and for those who become unemployed up to 90 days after their membership lapses. It does not extend to students, and there is no refund if a member loses his or her job after renewing SHRA membership.

Unemployed members can contact SHRA by email (membership@myshra.org) to request an application. The application must be approved before the active SHRA member has made a renewal payment. Members will receive notification when their transitioning membership has been approved and reactivated.

A transitioning membership includes the cost of a basic membership. Transitioning professionals will be responsible for any costs associated with monthly meetings, conference or other events.

The Sarasota-Manatee Human Resources Association began in 1963 with a small group of dedicated personnel professionals. Today, SHRA has more than 200 professional and student members from Sarasota & Manatee Counties.
